Ceausescu's Kids 48:00 Mary Ann Alton, Barna Alper Productions
For a generation Romanian women were forced to have babies they didn't want. It was the work of a madman, Nicolae Ceausescu. He imposed a ban on abortion and birth control and forced every woman of child bearing age to have at least four children. Thousands of them had AIDS. Ceausescu's lasting legacy is a generation of unwanted children. Warning: This film contains shocking and graphic images.

4:00 pm–5:00 pm Canzani Auditorium at CCAD

Talk Mogadishu: Media Under Fire 50:00 Judy Jackson
Somali Canadians fight for media freedom in war-torn Mogadishu. For more than a decade, the African nation of Somalia has languished in a state of near-total anarchy. The former capital, Mogadishu, is a ruined shell of a city where torture, kidnapping and murder are the only things found in abundance.
